Practice in teacher training in Estonia:

- During the study period student has to pass at least two practice periods in every school year in different pre-school institutions.
- Each practice module has different purpose and concentrates on different age groups

The aim of teacher training practice period in Estonian pre-school institutions:

- reflecting and analyzing his/her professional competences and his/her role as a teacher; setting goals for their professional development;
- become familiar with the principles of organizing educational activities and the agreed values of various pre-school institutions;
- analyzing the collaboration in the practice tutor's team, the importance and possibilities of teamwork and teacher collaboration in the pre-school institutions;
- participating in the learning and educational activities organized by the practice tutor and coaching children's play

Tasks of the teacher training tutors in Estonian pre-school institutions:

- introducing the personnel and the children, principles of organizing educational activities and documentation in the pre-school institution;
- performing activities for the student to observe and performing discussions after the activities;
- instructing and guiding the student in the process of planning and organizing the learning activities;
- providing feedback after the educational activities;
- discussing the group's learning and educational activities with the student on a daily basis;
